Categorical Questions.

Declarations He Made in Response to

The records and documents in the Briggs case, which have been submitted to the general assembly, are about as voluminous as those of some big case which has been fought from court to court until it has reached the Supreme Court of the United States. In addition to that three have been received by the assembly from different presbyteries many overtures bearing on the question of appeal, which is involved in the Briggs case. It is the contention of the prosecution in the case that Dr. Briggs has never retracted the utterances which charges are based. It will be remembered that the case was tried first by the New York preswas dismissed by a vote of 94 to 39. The resolu-tion then adopted declared "that the presbytery of New York, having listened to the paper of Rev. Charles A. Briggs, D. It was from this action that the prosecution appealed to the general assembly of 1892, which body remanded the case to the presbytery for trial. It was one of the complaints of the prosecution that the action was founded in part on the answers to a series of categorical lestions not propounded by the presbytery, prosecution. [From yesterday's Assembly edition.] The afternoon session, beginning at 2:30 clock, was opened with prayer by Rev. Dr. Paton. On motion of Dr. Jos. T. Smith the reports of the committees on church unity and co-operation were made the first order for Wednesday afternoon.

Mr. Worrall, secretary of the committee or Sabbath observance, of which the late Col. Elliott F. Shepard was chairman, presented the report of that committee.

were 25,000 people in the grounds yesterday. Rev. Mr. McCauley then offered as a resolu tion that in view of that fact that the exhibit of the Presbyterian Church be removed.

Rev. Dr. Warfield, the president of Lafayette
College, offered a resolution as an amendment to the report that the second Sunday in June be set apart as a day for special prayer for the better observance of the Sabbath, and recom-mending that on that day sermons be preached denouncing the directors for their action in violating their promises in respect to Sunday

Dr. Warfield, in discussing his resolution Dr. Warfield, in discussing his resolution said that he believed that there was a tendency to overlook the efficacy of prayer. He believed that they should appeal to prayer. He spoke earnestly of the tendency to make civilization the watchword in place of the immortality of Christ. He spoke of the growing desecration of the Sabbath and the need people gathered together and united in prayer for some great blessing which they all desired. All of the report and resolutions were adopted down to the amendment proposed providing for removing the Presbyterian exhibit.

Mr. Ellis of Saginaw, Mich., suggested to amend this by inserting the word "hereafter," so it would provide for removing the exhibit in case the Sunday closing law is "hereafter" vio-

Elder Jerome said that if the fair was to be open on Sunday there was all the more reason Mr. John Randolph of this city said he hoped promise on this subject.

Elder Smith of Poughkeepsie asked if the assembly had the power to withdraw the prayer for a blessing upon the work delivered by Rev. Dr. Hodge of Lincoln University. THE CHURCH HAD THE RIGHT.

Dr. Herrick Johnson, a member of the committee in charge of the matter, stated that they undoubtedly had the right to remove it, but it would involve a bill of expenses. He said that the late Elliott F. Shepard had contributed $500 to help pay the expenses of this exhibit, and they would feel that it was necessary to and they would feel that it was necessary to refund that money to the estate in case the fair was opened on Sunday and the exhibit was left there, as such a thing was entirely contrary to Col. Shepard's views.

Mr. Endalie said that he would guarantee that the $500 would be forthcoming. The res-olution was then adopted as amended by a ris-

Rev. Dr. Charles L. Thompson, an ex-moderator of the assembly, presided at the meeting, and there were a number of sharp, pithy five-minute addresses. In addition there was an interesting program of music rendered by the Temperance Choir of the Fifteenth Street Mr. Worrall said that was the fact and there Presbyterian Church. This is the only ored Presbyterian church in the city, and its temperance society is one of its most flourishing features. The exercises last evening were opened by the rendering of an anthem in ex-cellent style by a chorus of about twenty

In his opening remarks Dr. Thompson said that it was very proper that the memorial an-niversary of the freedmen's board should be held in Washington, a city redolent with the slaves. It was also proper, in a sense, that he should preside over the meeting inasmuch as he was for four years a member of the board, whose efforts and successes were very dear to him. In view of the vast field for work pre-sented by the southern states he must say that they had not done all that should be done in ing desecration of the Sabbath and the need for earnest effort and prayer by God-loving and rian Church had bardly come up to the mark od-serving people. He thought there was need for a return to the great days when all the people gathered together and united in prayer the help that it received from the church in the way of money and men. In our midst are seven or eight millions of people, freedmen, but citizens as much as any of us, who must be raised to the same level, intellectual and moral as the rest of the community. The work is a great and a noble one and worthy of devoted, faithful effort. In closing his brief introductory remarks Dr. Thompson referred feelingly to the loss sustained by the board in the death of Richard Allen, "who has gone to his reward and to whom the Presbyterian Church must ever be grateful for the share he took in the work among the freedmen."

At the close of Dr. Thompson's address Rev. Mr. Murray, a prominent colored minister, read the First Psaim, which was followed by a

He said that he had spent seven years of his life in the work among the freedmen. and there was an appropriateness in his ad-dressing a meeting which is usually addressed only by workers in the field, for before another meeting of the assembly he would probably have severed his present connection with the board. He was a soldier in the war himself and desperately wounded in battle, and yet if the question had been asked of him then, when and desperately wounded in battle, and yet if the question had been asked of him then, when leaving the fleid with a shattered arm and a minic ball in his shoulder, whether the end in to $1.50 for each of twenty parts, with a limited minie ball in his shoulder, whether the end in view was worth what it cost he would have answered even then that the civil liberty of the slave was worth all that it cost to the nation and to the individual. The work of educating the freedmen was never so encouraging as now nor the prospect so bright. Speaking of the work accomplished by boarding schools, Dr. Gibson said that there are now sixteen seminaries for freedmen, with of educating a colored girl in a seminary of the first class is but $50 a year; in the second class it is but $45. THE NEW AMERICAN BIBLE. First Part of the Hebrew Text in the Hand

Baltimore, May 20.—The new American Bible is in the press, and the first part of the Hebrew text has been placed in the hands of a few friends of Prof. Paul Haupt of the Johns Hopkins University, who is the editor and mov- THEIR CITY ADDRESSES. There was a large gathering of people in the ing spirit of the enterprise. Advance notices Prof. C. Siegfried of the University of Jena has reconstructed the text, and Prof. R. E. Brunnow of Heidelberg has translated into English the very copious notes, giving the scholar's reasons for the changes he has made, going deep into comparative Scripture, text study and Semitic philology for them. EACH BOOK A MOSAIC. It is generally conceded by scholars that each of the many books of the Bible is a mosaic, the work not of one author, but rather an interweaving of several distinct contributors, written at several periods, put together by a final editor. In order to show off the individual portions of a composite text Prof. Haupt has devised for this Bible blocks of color, on which, at the same impression, the black letters of the text are printed. Thus in the present work may be distinguished by their color those parallel passages believed to be later additions to and insertions into the original text, several strata of different dates and authorship being apparent. Another color marks polemical interpolations into the text directed against the tendency of the poem, put in to darken its meaning weaving of several distinct contributors, writency of the poem, put in to darken its meaning for doctrinal purposes.

As one scholar urges of a like work, the synagogical authorities seem to say of the original text: "Let us save this attractive book for the congregation, but we will pour some water into the author's strong wine. Yet again there are indicated by red blocks what Prof. Siegfried believes to be passages correcting interpola-tions conforming the speeches of Job to the orthodox doctrine of retribution.

It has been deemed necessary to rearrange the order of the poem very materially; thus Elihu's speeches, chapters 32 to 37, are rele-gated to the end as a special appendix, while many passages are taken directly from the body of the text and used as foot notes. They are supposed to be additions merely, to explain or supplement the text, or to illustrate it by way of quotation. A distinguished Catholic theo-logian said recently of similar confusion in another scriptural book, Ecclesiastes, that it was probable that the binder of the original manuscripts had made a mistake in misplacing the quires, for the disarrangement scarcely seems accidental.

Explanations of these striking textual emendations, with reasons therefor, are to appear in the introduction to the new translation, to get out which this fall Prof. Haupt has gone to Germany to work at his publisher's elbow. The new English translation will be a counterpart in order of passages and otherwise of the crit-ical Hebrew text. Concordances accompany each text for comparison with the received version.

RESULT OF YEARS OF STUDY.

Prof. Haupt believes that the work should be of value in class rooms and in seminaries where the ancient versions are studied and real to Bible students who have no knowledge of Hebrew. However, it must attract much attention among the many students who want to know the result of years of study of the best representatives of higher criticism in the world, and it is thus that interest in the Bible will be stimulated, however much the disagreement as to the truth of the radical teachings of this modern school.

There has never been gathered together, it is safe to say, a grander array of scholarship than under Prof. Haupt's direction to bring out this work. Kuenen, the most distinguished Hebraist of his time, who was to have contributed "Lamenta-tions," died on December 10, 1891. The German school is represented by Slade, Schwally, Cornhill, Socin. Friedrich Delitzsch, Well-hausen, Multer, Siegfried, Kamphausen, Guthe and Kutel. The only Jewish contributors are Prof. Morris Jastrow of the University of Pennsylvania and Claude Montefiore and L. Abrahams of the Jewish Quarterly Review, London.

BANQUET BEATS DIABLO. Riding.

Yesterday was an ideal day for racing and the crowd of 5,000 persons who attended the Brooklyn Jockey Club's track saw some excellent sport. The track was in the best of condi-The principal interest centered in the fourth race, the Parkway handicap, in which Diablo, winner of the Brooklyn handicap, met Ban-Witherald. They were married November, quet and other good handicap animals. Banquet won, but Taral, the jockey of Diablo, cinimed it was through foul riding. Julien cut out the running, followed by Illume and Diablo. Near the turn Banquet moved up rapidly and Taral sent Diablo to the front. These two drew out near the furlong pole. Banquet crossed over to the rail and forced Diablo to pull up and go around on the out-
